

Contact Information: Global Experiences

Michael Greto

1010 Pendleton Street

Alexandria, VA 22314

E-mail: admin@globalexperiences.com

Website: www.globalexperiences.com

Phone: 877-432-2762

Fax: 703-519-0650

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: November 28th, 2005

It's cold outside! Plan now for your summer with Global Experiences International Programs.

Alexandria, VA – Looking for something new this summer? Tired of the same old summer job in your home town? Why not spread your wings and apply for an international summer program with Global Experiences. With international work placements, internships, teaching English programs and volunteer opportunities, Global Experiences provide students and young professionals with unforgettable experiences that enhance their career opportunities - you can also gain university credit for your time abroad. With 2006 officially declared as the “year for study abroad,” there is no better time to enhance your resume and your life with an international program.

Global Experiences has been offering programs to young Americans for the past 5 years. With its international headquarters in Alexandria, Virginia, the company has an extensive network of committed international partners, providing unparalleled opportunities for students and young professionals overseas. Finishing university and entering the workforce can be challenging, especially when competing with hundreds of other graduates. This is where Global Experiences steps in, giving individuals the experience that will differentiate them from all other applicants in the prospective employment market.

Global Experiences programs are designed for high school graduates, college students and college graduates. Antonello, a former intern with Global Experiences in Italy, says “I expect many doors to open in the future thanks to this experience. Global Experiences was great in facilitating my placement, providing an opportunity I may not have found otherwise, and helping me to earn a full semester of university credit.” Global Experiences provides these life changing programs in over 15 countries, including Italy, Spain, and Australia, with programs soon to be offered in France and Holland.

When Global Experiences entered the market there were few companies offering support to students and young professionals interested in working and interning overseas. Global Experiences now has grown to be a premier international program provider with hundreds of participants traveling each year to programs ranging from 4 weeks to 12 months in all professional fields.

Global Experiences was founded to promote cultural, business and travel opportunities for students and young professionals who want to live abroad.

###